At 10:50 p.m. I responded to the 500 block of Estates Drive, where a homeowner asked me to check her front yard and the street because her dog was barking a lot, which was abnormal. I checked the area, but saw nothing of concern. I advised her that her dog may have been on alert due to sounds from tonight's airshow and from traffic caused by the homecoming dance at Rio Americano High School.

At 8:30 p.m., I was at the intersection of Fair Oaks Boulevard and Arden Way when dispatch advised me of a report of loud vehicles traveling at high speeds on Arden Way and McClaren Drive. I arrived in the area within seconds, but observed no issues. I believe the call may have been related to several vehicles traveling on Fair Oaks Boulevard with loud exhaust systems that made them sound as though they were traveling at high speeds.

At 12:30 a.m., while I was on Ashton Drive near the American River, I heard a report that a woman may have been kidnapped. The caller said he was a witness and was following the suspect vehicle eastbound on American River Drive toward my location.

I located the caller at American River Drive and Estates Drive, but did not see the suspected vehicle pass through the area. After speaking with the man, I determined that he had witnessed a gathering being broken up by law enforcement in Rancho Cordova. During that incident, he said he saw a man yelling at a woman, telling her that she was drunk and needed to get into the passenger seat of a vehicle. Responding deputies soon located the vehicle and determined that no crime had occurred. The woman passenger was intoxicated, but safe and was taken home by her boyfriend.

Saturday, 8 a.m. – 4 p.m., Oct. 17
I patrolled the neighborhood and completed all 34 scheduled vacation watch checks. All homes were secure.

I observed a large pile of litter strewn about on American River Drive. I found a garbage bag and discarded it. Then I drove to the area where we have been having repeated transient issues near the Watt Avenue overpass, but did not locate any signs of camping.

As I was patrolling Shelato Way near Beard, I was waved down by a resident who was upset that cars were parked at the intersection corners while the drivers were attending a fall carnival at Del Dayo Elementary School. The resident said she approached a woman with a child as they were getting out of a vehicle and told the woman that she was parked illegally. The driver apparently dismissed her and walked to the school. The resident demanded that the vehicles be cited because it was an ongoing issue.

As I was running plates and requesting service by Parking Enforcement, the owner of the vehicle returned. I spoke to her about how many feet she could park near the intersection. I also determined that her registration had recently expired. She explained that she had just moved to a home nearby and that her mail hadn't caught up to her yet. After she left, I remained and cited four vehicles for parking in the red zone, in front of a fire hydrant and at the intersection.

I was approached by three other parents who were leaving the event. They reported ongoing issues with traffic congestion near the school and drivers who parked in the handicap spots without credentials. I notified Parking Enforcement and requested some attention to this area.

I was waved down by a Cosumnes River College student who told me he had had received a call from a man who said he was a Sheriff's Department deputy. The caller told him that a warrant had been issued citing him for missing jury duty. The student told the caller that he did not have any money to pay the fine, so the man told him to drive to the Sheriff's Department and wait for deputies to contact him. I explained to the young man that the Sheriff's Department doesn't make such calls and that he was being scammed.

I was waved down on McClaren Drive by a stranded mom with a child. Their car battery was totally dead, so I drove them to the home of a nearby relative for more assistance.

Sunday, 12- 6 p.m., Oct. 18

I checked all river access points and Ashton Park. There were very few people at the river and Ashton Park also was relatively quiet.

Tuesday 7 a.m. to 3 p.m., Oct. 20
I patrolled the neighborhood and completed 23 scheduled vacation watch checks. Nearly all homes were secure. I found the side garage door to one home unlocked. Nothing in the garage appeared to be disturbed. I called the homeowner and their local contact, leaving voice messages with both to inform them. I locked the door and continued my checks.

I stopped by Ashton Park several times and everything was in good order. A group was having a BBQ.

At 7:30 a.m., I stopped three drivers at American River and Estates drives and cited one for failing to come to a complete stop at the stop sign. A few pedestrians thanked me for the enforcement.

I was waved down by county sanitation workers in the 3900 block of American River Drive about a discarded bag on the street. One man said he opened the bag and it made him sick. They called MetroFire, which responded and opened the bag and found that it contained numerous female wigs. The fire crew checked the worker and determined that he was OK. The workers placed the bag on their trash truck.

I responded to a report of a teenage boy and girl lying in the grass at Ashton Park. When I arrived, the only two people in the park were a high-school-age boy and girl sitting on a bench in very close proximity to each other. They said they had been dropped off by a friend so they could "talk quietly." They admitted that they had cut class from McClatchy High School. I told them to call their friend to pick them up and return them to school.

Thursday 8 a.m.-4 p.m., Oct. 22
I patrolled the neighborhood and completed all 28 scheduled vacation watch checks. All homes were secure.

I drove by the home on Dovercourt Circle where a resident had received threats. It checked clear.

I saw no parking violations around the schools. There were no issues to report at Ashton Park or the river access points.

Friday-Saturday, 8 p.m.- 2 a.m., Oct. 23-24
I patrolled the neighborhood and completed all 20 scheduled vacation watch checks. All homes were secure.

Around 1 a.m., I was waved down by a security guard who asked for help moving a transient who was sleeping behind Bella Bru. I moved the gentleman out of the area. He was friendly and said he had been homeless for 30 years. I offered to help him get additional resources, but he declined.

The neighborhood was very quiet, other than a musical event at Rio Americano High School that kept some cars there until midnight.
